The Ready Set

Darling don't you mess around,
Showing your face on my side of town.
The center of my home's not the size,
Adequate enough to host both our lives.

She says that I am,
All that I was,
I tend to disagree,
A gunshot to the leg as sickened me

You know that I'll ring
And into the fire
Ten steps and send his best
And I was on the ground singing (laohhh)

Well I'll breathe in this town
Cause I've had enough
Of this life

Don't search me
Don't find me out
I tend now want things more than I really deserve them,
Your best bet is missing out,
And when you call for me
I'll come running like I do, like I do you know.

And when I'd said that I'd had enough, had enough,
You still stands to run your mouth, run your mouth,
Ohhh,
Well any other day I'd be cool and nonchalant,

Don't you tell me that, don't you feed me lies princess,
You tumble through the row like dust
And maybe baby, I'll see you.

Laohhh,
Well I'll breathe in this town,
'Cause I've had enough of this life.

Don't search me
Don't find me out
I tend now want things more than I really deserve them,
Your best bet is missing out,
And when you call for me
I'll come running like I do,
Like I do you know.

All my life,
All my life.

Don't search me,
Don't find me out.
I tend now want things more than I really deserve them.
