

I'm Still Fine

The Red Clay Strays

Sometimes I feel
Like I can't feel
This isn't real
I should be hurting
I was alone
I was a song
Music and bone
God's perfect wording

And could the people understand this?
I'm as bruised as a used up canvas
I'm awfully nice, but I'm cold as ice
I've been through hell, but I'll be alright

People here living it up, I think they're blind
I think they're out of their minds
Not one of them has had this
God's not giving me up, no, I'm just fine
It's just a matter of time
Oh, I don't feel my sadness
I know it should be there
Maybe I'm too tired to care
But I'm still fine

I'm on display
I've lost my way
Oh God, I pray
Let this pass over
I lost the note
I rocked the boat
I've even choked
I lost my composure

People here living it up, I think they're blind
I think they're out of their minds
Not one of them has had this
God's not giving me up, no, I'm just fine
It's just a matter of time
Though I can't feel my sadness
I know it should be there
Maybe I'm too tired to care

Maybe I've been giving my love and all my time
Yeah, ya know I'm stronger in the long run
Oh, but Father, I'm afraid You picked the wrong one

People here living it up, I think they're blind
I think they're out of their minds
Not one of them has had this
God's not giving me up, no, I'm just fine
It's just a matter of time
Though I can't feel my sadness
I know it should be there
Maybe I'm too tired to care

Maybe I've been giving my love and all my time
Oh, I know I should be scared

Maybe I'm too tired to care
But I'm still fine
Oh, oh
I'm still fine
