

Red Light

The Regrettes

You can't love me, you're not allowed to
Cause if you did I'd probably run from you
You can't hate me, though you probably do
Cause then I might just die and have to blame you
I can't breathe but maybe that's okay
Maybe I'll just save it for another rainy day
I can't sleep but maybe that's alright
I can save my sleeping for another empty night

Kiss me at the red light one more time
Every time I think of you feels like a crime
I could be green, red, orange, purple or blue
Only if it means that I'm keeping you

You got to love me cause now you have to
And if you don't well I might just have to kill you
You can't forget me, I wouldn't let you
Cause if you did, I would run into the deep blue
I can't eat but maybe that's okay
I can save my eating for another week day
I can't cry but I guess it's for the best
Oh honey I can take it, you're just better than the rest

Kiss me at the red light one more time
Every time I think of you feels like a crime
But I could be green, red, orange, purple or blue
Only if it means that I'm keeping you

You can't love me, you're not allowed to
Cause if you did I'd probably run from you
You can't hate me, though you probably do
Cause then I might just die and have to blame you

Kiss me at the red light one more time
Every time I think of you feels like a crime
Oh but I can be green, red, orange, purple or blue
Only if it means that I'm keeping you
