

One Beer Away

The Reklaws

Up in your head instead of head in the clouds
Just a bit of rain got you feeling like you're drowning
Don't worry, brother, I got you covered
It's just one boot in front of the other

'Cause I'm only two roads down, so come on by
You know I'll be around, so let's make it right
When the world gets you down and you just need a break
Whatcha say?
I'm only one beer away

From that taste of freedom on a Friday night
To letting go and falling into the time of your life
If you asked God and he answered with a neon sign
Let's raise some hell for heaven's sake
'Cause I'm only one beer away
Singing along to songs you don't even know
To lifting up that Dixie cup full of something that's cold
From your worst day to your best night
Got a heavy heart? Here's a Busch Light
You name the time and place
I'm only one beer away

We got all night to figure it out
Won't let you fall, let you hit the ground
So, don't worry, sister, 'cause I got a fixer
Yeah, I got your name on a pitcher

'Cause I'm only two roads down, so come on by
You know I'll be around, so let's make it right
When the world gets you down and you just need a break
Whatcha say?
I'm only one beer away

From that taste of freedom on a Friday night
To letting go and falling into the time of your life
If you asked God and he answered with a neon sign
Let's raise some hell for heaven's sake
'Cause I'm only one beer away
Singing along to songs you don't even know
To lifting up that Dixie cup full of something that's cold
From your worst day to your best night
Got a heavy heart? Here's a Busch Light
You name the time and place
I'm only one beer away

You name the time and place
'Cause I'm only one beer away

From that taste of freedom on a Friday night
To letting go and falling into the time of your life
If you asked God and he answered with a neon sign
Let's raise some hell for heaven's sake
