

Take Our Time

The Ridleys

You lie in bed
All your fears have clouded your head
The words they said
Got you feeling like you're better off dead

You call your friends
But none of them are picking up
No one understands
And all this sand
Won't stop the flow, no it won't wait for you
But know it's not the end

We're gonna find a way
To say we made it through the night

When your eyes are finally dry
And you're sick of saying "Well, I tried, I know"
If you think you've lost your mind
Hold my hand, stay by my side
We'll go

Exploring roads and possibilities
We should take it slow
Let's take our time and make some memories
I just wanna make them all with you

You've reached the end
No more tears to cry
No broken hearts to mend

We've reached sweet land
After sailing through the storm
On the ship that you command

When your eyes are finally dry
And you're sick of saying "Well, I tried, I know"
If you think you've lost your mind
Hold my hands, stay by my side
We'll go
Exploring roads and possibilities
We should take it slow
Go to places that we haven't seen
Feed our mind and soul
Let's take our time and make some memories
I just wanna make them all with you
