

The Law

The Riot

I been use I been abused for far too long
I got my mind on lettin go
Seventy years or more I'm paying for my crime
What I've done I just don't know
I did my time behind these walls
I hear the sound of freedoms call

Running from the law, from the law
That's where I'm at baby

I took my chance I made my stance once and for all
No more chains to hold me down
I run and hide I will decide to never fall
No more Kings to break my crown
Finally free no more to pay
Your battered walls can't make me stay

No more running from the law, from the law
From the law, from the law. That's where I'm at now

No more running from the law, from the law, from the law, from
the law
Not the man I used to be, one more day I will be free
I'm running so hard oh no that's right
Oh no they ain't never taking me alive baby
That's right
