

Victory

The Riot

Ah, ah, ah

In the land of the dark and brave
On the seas t'wards the souls you'll save
Under skies of charcoal gray
The strong survive and the weak will pray

Silver moon as she shines so bright
On the water as our guiding light
Always there for a helping hand
Heading to a foreign land

Rise up
Your swords of steel
For the soulds you'll save
Onward to thunder bay

Rise up
Your voices strong
And scream along
Cry out victory

Clash of steel its burning light
Engaging foes to another fight
Marching 'cross the foggy lands
Forge ahead as we make our stand

Bloody flesh lay across the fields
Blackened leather and tarnished shields
Staking claim to a fallen town
Fists are up and the hammer's down

Rise up
Your swords of steel
For the soulds you'll save
Onward to thunder bay

Rise up
Your voices strong
And scream along
Cry out victory

Metal strikes echo 'cross the sky
Eerie silence as another dies
Hundred years of rape and pillage
Screams of praise as we clear the village

Shedding blood for our fellow man
Tortured souls can rest again
Sailing back on the blackened sea
Raise our flag in victory

Rise up
Your swords of steel
For the souls you'll save
Onward to thunder bay

Rise up
And scream along

Victory
