

Sharks

The Rocket Summer

Today...

She was perfect

The kind that gives your soul meaning and purpose

We met some years ago today

He was my close friend

My brother, a heart of gold

But he took her from me

They met some years ago today

Why would I want to go back?

Why would I want to go back in time or to tomorrow?

Why would I want to go back or worry about what the future holds?

When I can just take in today

A shiver of sharks swim, the ocean in the dark

Yet one night dispersing and now swim miles apart today

Why would I want to go back?

Why would I want to go back in time or to tomorrow?

Why would I want to go back or worry about what the future holds?

When I can just take in today

Her, Her

Somewhere in the ocean

Her, Her

I cannot get out of the sea.

Her, Her

She can smell my devotion as I bleed

Today

Hey you got me out of my head
