

You Are, You Are

The Rocket Summer

Just stay down
I've been listening to all of the voices in my head
So loud
I can't imagine life without such noises
these days

When the night sheds light on the guilt
You're beautiful
When memories of failed attempts fire at will
You're beautiful
When hate, like sheets of rain, drown your hope, once plentiful
You are, you are Still are, still are
You are beautiful

Get up
Don't stay down
Silence the listening to all the voices in your head
They're so loud
Reliving every step and every choice that lead you here

When the night sheds light on the guilt
You're beautiful
When memories of failed attempts fire at will
You're beautiful
When hate, like sheets of rain, drown your hope, once plentiful
You are, you are Still are, still are
You are beautiful

When the night sheds light on the guilt
You're beautiful
When memories of failed attempts fire at will
You're beautiful
When hate, like sheets of rain, drown your hope, once plentiful
You are, you are Still are, still are
You are beautiful