

Talk

The Rocketboys

All the ceilings I have memorized are getting higher
But talking in my sleep isn't good for you, isn't good for me
Do I need to apologize for the sins that I've omitted, oh, oh-oh

I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen

Words and things unheard are circling around my mind
Just waiting for a chance, an open door to the great divide
Do bells need to apologize to the air for not ringing out, out loud

I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
Oh, I'm feeling lost, oh, I'm feeling lost
Can we start again
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen

I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
Oh, I'm feeling lost, oh, I'm feeling lost
Can we start again
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen

And when the words do finally fall out of my mouth
I hope you're there with me to pick up the sound
Oh, is an empty heart any worse than an empty ear
Oh, I know I got something that you want to hear

I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen
Oh, I'm feeling lost, oh, I'm feeling lost
Can we start again
I just want to talk, I just want to talk
Can somebody listen