

Peace

The Roots

[Black Thought]

Peaceful minds.. in a land of war Seek peace of mind, through mental peacefulness Peacefulness, peacefulness, peace-ful-ness is in the mind of the beholder Behold, my mental piece could shatter your peace, to pieces Pieces and portions of rhythmic distortion relax me The echos reverb and feedback of reality disturb my peace forcing me to retreat, to the below beneath Down a step and a step and a step and a step and a step beyond to a level of my own private, mystic, ritualistic, culturalistic sanity Yet some say that I am insane Is that not ironic? My soul not sonic as I flow through the tonic, of life I find that the strife behind, that pushes and pulls and pulls and pushes me into all of the bullshit that I experience from day to day is the reason.. for my search, or journey, or struggle to find.. the broken pieces of the sign that combine, to form the crooked line that we call.. peace y'all
