

Lullabye

The Rose

Lose track
Lose track of your mind
And leave me behind
Dont look back
Take a picture of me for baby to see
In a while

Dont hurt your soul it just makes you whole
Dont hurt your soul its in your control

Fare thee well
The way outs before you so to yourself be true
Goodbye to hell
I love you forever through every endeavor

Dont hurt your soul it just makes you whole
Dont hurt your soul its in your control

Lay down your wounds
We'll erase all the pain
In the palm of your hand
There we land

And before you cry
Sing this lullabye

Breath out
Your baby wounds can always be free
Dont pout
Ill fly to your side and together we'll hide

Dont hurt your soul it just makes you whole
Dont hurt your soul its in your control

Bye bye old friends
Make amends at the end
Of this road I've been told
That each day
Is my first

And before you cry
Sing this lullabye

Lost at the bar
Counting stars
And you cannot let go
Of the past in your heart you are a part

And before you cry
Sing this lullabye
