

Snowflakes

The Rose

I only wish for snow to fall
On the palm trees in the dirt
But here the sun will always shine (It'll always shine)
Even if with the clouds it flirts

For Shngri-LA is always dry
It doesn't cry like me
In Hell-LA the sun is always there (it's always there)
Scalding the deep green sea

I'll never be a snowflake
And waltz to earth so gently
To form a perfect blanket
For someone else to walk on

I close my eyes to feel the cold
On the palm of my blue hand
But the breeze it blows straight through my hair (through my hair)
And buries in the sand

I've lost my mind in wanderlust
My heart cannot be found
My body yearns for the warmth of snow
But the sun keep pouring down
These streets have signs that point somewhere
But there I don't belong
And there's no more use
To curl your hair
When your innocence is gone

I only wish for snow to fall
On the palm trees in the dirt
But here the sun will always shine (always shine)
Even if with clouds it flirts
