Somewhere Far Away

The Saw Doctors

How often do you lie in bed
And wonder in the dark
If there's something in the heavens
Way beyond the stars
How often do you wonder
As you face another day
If there's something special waiting for You
Somewhere far away

Somewhere Far away

When I look around the town these Days
There's nothing here for me
And the job is like a prison
That might never set me free
And all the girl's I've fancied
Are married now or gone
And the good few years I've schooled
Still not sure what's going on

This feeling often takes me that
I know I should not stay
And its time to see what's waiting for me
Somewhere Far Away

Somewhere Far Away

Maybe somewhere far away
The hills are always green
The healing of your longing heart
Is more than just a dream
Maybe it's a tower back
Upon the 18th floor
There awaitin in the hallway
Behind the chained up door

This feeling often takes me that
I know I should not stay
And its time to see what's waiting for me
Somewhere Far Away
