

Crushed Out On Soda Beach

the scary jokes

I tried just burning the whole thing to the ground today
But decisiveness is such a foreign tenant to my psyche
It violently and immediately began to reject it
So I had no choice but to salvage the ravaged remains of our hi story

I danced with you in a nightmare
I was dragging you across the floor
The radio disrupted by some voyeuristic spirit
I could hardly stand under the weight of my little crush on you
And you, so limp in my arms, hardly helped
So, all that I could do was collapse under you

You called my bluff, I love you too much
Would you please stay with me?
'Cause after all is said and done
I want you here, stay with me
I showed my hand and I don't give a damn
Shut the door, stay with me
'Cause after all is said and done
I need you here
