

Our Murderous Descent

the scary jokes

Shall we go down
Beneath the waterfall?
Raining thunder, where we can
Make a place to hide

Our splintering bones
Oh, now we're seeing red
Fetching the crown to
Adorn my lover's head

(They don't, they don't know)
We buckle too, when the flesh fails

Wanting, waiting
On vengeance to free her arrow
It's a blind shot across
Our starlit kingdom

Our splintering bones
Oh, now we're seeing red
Fetching the crown to
Adorn my lover's head

They don't, they don't know
They've got no common sense
We don't, we don't, we don't
Have to be so defenseless

But we shatter too
When the flesh fails
And I'll be right here
I'll be right here with you

They don't, they don't know
They don't, they don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't, you don't know
The weight I carry
You know, it don't come easy
So won't you be sweet?
Oh fortune, please, won't you be sweet to me?

(They don't, they don't know)
(They don't, they don't know)
(They don't, they don't know)

Our splintering bones
Oh, now we're seeing red
Fetching the crown to
Adorn my lover's head
