

Better Days

The Score

You're feeling so small
You get out of bed
The world outside seems so tall
You're losing yourself
You're trying to make sense of it all
You should know there's gonna be more than this

You're wishing away
The darkness inside your thoughts are getting in your way
You're running so fast it's hard to find somewhere safe
Or find your place in the middle of all of this

The truth is always hard to hold
But I'll be here when you let go

I'll never let, I'll never let you go
I'll always let, I'll always let you know
When your world's on fire and you can't escape
When you're on the edge and 'bout to break
There's gonna be better days

Catching your breathe
When life is a roller-coaster inside your head
Just take it slow and figure out step-by-step
And don't forget there's gonna be more than this

The truth is always hard to hold
But I'll be here when you let go

I'll never let, I'll never let you go
Oh
I'll always let, I'll always let you know
When your world's on fire, and you can't escape
When you're on the edge and 'bout to break
There's gonna be better days

There's gonna be better days

When your world's on fire, and you can't escape
When you're on the edge and 'bout to break
There's gonna be better days

I'll never let, I'll never let you go
Oh
I'll always let, I'll always let you know
When your world's on fire, and you can't escape
When you're on the edge and 'bout to break
There's gonna be better days

There's gonna be better days

When your world's on fire, and you can't escape
When you're on the edge and 'bout to break
There's gonna be better days
