

Redemption Song

The Score

Will you be the rock that breaks all of my walls to the ground?
Will you be the sound that I hear when they come crashing down?
Ya when all of the dust starts to fade
And it's just you and I all the way
Will you still want me the same with my flaws hanging out

Will you be the force that awakens my soul calling out
Hey
Will you be the light that I see that is breaking my clouds
Ya when all that I am starts to fade
And I'm reaching out to be saved
Will you still want me the same with my scars showing now

Oh. With my scars showing now

Yeah. There's a road we take
And we'll been marching on
Break down the walls I made
I never was that strong

And when the trumpets play
I know I'll sing along
To every note and shape
'Cause you're my redemption song

'Cause you're my redemption song

Will you be my hallelujah, my verse and refrain
Hey
Will you be my prophet, my lover, my sinner and saint Yeah. When all that I give's always more than you take
And I'm pushing us past where we break
Will you still love me the same with my flaws hanging out

Oh. With my flaws hanging out

Yeah. There's a road we take
And we'll been marching on
Break down the walls I made
I never was that strong

And when the trumpets play
I know I'll sing along
To every note and shape
'Cause you're my redemption song

'Cause you're my redemption song

'Cause you're my redemption song
'Cause you're my redemption song
