

Hitting Myself in the Head

The Screaming Jets

Yeah, well, just 'cause I'm not talkin', don't mean that I'm not thinkin'

Thinkin', runnin' all this through my mind

And just because I'm screamin', don't mean I'm sayin' anything

All the noise I make just helps at nothin' at all

I feel like hitting myself in the head

Hey, just because I'm sleepin', don't mean that I'm not listenin'

Listenin', in my dreams I hear you call

Yeah, and just because I'm laughin', don't mean I think I'm funny, no, honey

Don't you know you judged and that's all

I feel like hitting myself in the head

If I cut off both my ears will you listen?

How can you hear me when you just keep talking on and on and on
I keep hitting myself in the head

If I cut off both my ears...

How can you hear me when you just keep talking on and on and on
Well I've heard it all before, there's nothing new

Well, I don't want any confrontation

And I'm sick to death about your twisted allegations

Well, all I want to hear is just the simple truth

You ain't ever tell me the truth

I feel like hitting myself in the head

If I cut off both my ears you got to listen

How can you hear me when you just keep talking on and on and on
Hitting myself in the head

If I cut off both my ears...

How can you hear me when you just keep talking on and on and on
Well I've heard it all before, there's nothing new from you

I keep hitting myself in the head
