

No Place No Home

The Screaming Jets

It's a long, long night, lonely day
I'll be all right, come what may
I see the lights o' home
It's the last place I can go

I remember a name but not your pretty face
Not being rude, no disgrace
Then something means something behind these walls
Now nothing means nothing and that's all

Every time I close my eyes my life has changed

I don't know what tomorrow brings for me
Guess I'll take it easily
I don't need no one to love me
I don't care what it could be
No place, no home

If I had a coin, you know I'd call
I know the answer for free, downfall
What I want and what I dream
Can only mean something to me

When I turn around I find my life has changed

I don't know what tomorrow brings for me
Guess I'll take it easily
I don't need no one to love me
I don't care what it should be
No place, no home

I can feel it's gonna be all right
I get myself through this long, lonely night
The only one to face the danger in your heart is just too big

I don't know what tomorrow brings for me
Guess I'll take it easily
I don't need no one to love me
I don't care what it should be
No place, no home
