

Right Place Wrong Time

The Screaming Jets

I got a line on a hell of a time, I'd rather spend it with you
Not wasting time with a partner in crime, who tells me he never knew

Never knew about a hell of a time, I've been spending with you You're at the back of the the wrong line
You know the stories, all the stories are true

Now what about you?
Every word I say is true

Right place, wrong time, you should have took a look around to see my face
Right place, wrong time, the party is all over and the bills ai n't gonna wait

You closed your eyes and you missed all the signs, nothing's st opping for you Just another Joe on an assembly line, always telling me things that you never do
Never knew about a hell of a time, I've been spending with you You're in the turdsdays this time
You know the story, telling you nothing new

Never, what about you?
Telling you nothing new

Right place, wrong time, you should have took a look around to
see my face
Right place, wrong time, the party is all over and the bills ai
n't gonna wait

Right place, wrong time, now could you take a look around...
Right place, wrong time, the party is all over, oh yeah

Right place, wrong time, you should have took a look around Right place, wrong time, the party is all over and the bills ai
n't gonna wait

I got a line on a hell of a time, I'd rather spend it with you
