

Were still asleep when I woke up
And news flashed like a speeding drum
Out of the blue all the headlines are red
Same shit today, our innocence is dead

So we better keep runnin'

Woe, oh, woe
Just tell me something I don't already know
Just let it go
We've all got scars but they don't always show

Fooled you once, you fooled me too
Maybe it's not me, it's you
Nothing is forever, we all cross that line
A new star burns, a new star shines

You better keep runnin'

Woe, oh, woe
Just tell me something I don't already know
Woe, oh, woe
We've all got scars but some people never show
Woe, oh, woe
Just tell me something I don't already know
Just let it go
Halfway there, destination unknown

A scar sits horned down the left of my back
I saw it coming, well, no random attack
I'll lay your habit, bro, yeah, man, it's a scene
The chaos there behind a destruction machine

You better keep runnin'

Woe, oh, woe
Just tell me something I don't already know, know, know
Woe, oh, woe
We've all got scars but some people never show
Woe, oh, woe
Just tell me something I don't already know
Don't let it go
We're halfway there, destination unknown