

Second Chance

The Screaming Jets

So cold outside today I think I'm going to stay by the fire
Some things you can never take back, if you do you're a liar
In my heart I know what's right
In my head there's a desperate fight
Who are you to say what I should do?
Don't believe in me, you believe in you
You're the only one who's going to see it through

You thought about a second chance, you never get 'em anyway
And if one came along right now do you know what you'd say?

It's what you see not what you get
How I am no regrets
Words I've heard I won't forget
Plays out like an old cassette
Better praise yourself
Against the overflow, each time's a test
So we'll never know, never know

Heart makes me move, the distance here that's what you choose
You're not the one, you're not the only one

Thought about a second chance, you never get 'em anyway
And if one came along right now do you know what you'd say?
I thought about a second chance, you never get 'em anyway
And if one came along right now do you know what you'd say?
That you could be the one

What if the sky begins to fall and the treadmill stops and stalls
What if the sun lost it's shine, we're running, running out of time
When there's nothing left to say and nothing else to do
You've got nothing left, I've got nothing too

You thought about a second chance and if it came along right now what would you do, what would you do?

I thought about a second chance, you never get 'em anyway
And if one came along right now I don't know if I'd know what to say
And if you had the chance right now do you know what you would, know what you would say
Oh no, so you never take the chance

I thought about a second chance, you never get 'em anyway
And if it came along right now do you know just what you would say

What would you say?
A second chance...
