

Falling Flying

The Script

That world that you keep inside
I want to bring it into the light
We both heard and feel the divide
Always hard to hide
You say you've got enough of hurt
Too much noise but lost for words
You can't tell where the horizon stops
For the reflection of the stars

Do you smile when you feel like crying?
Do you laugh when inside you're dying?
You've got to keep up and give in
Feel the air against your skin
That's when falling feels like flying
That's when falling feels like flying

All you got left is a bag of regrets, just let it go
You hold it so close to keep it composed all alone
But when I hear you say the words
I'll be there outside your window
Just one touch, you can wash away the hurt like a miracle

Do you smile when you feel like crying?
Do you laugh when inside you're dying?
You've got to keep up and give in
Feel the air against your skin
That's when falling feels like flying
That's when falling feels like flying

Do you smile when you feel like crying?
Do you laugh when inside you're dying?
You've got to keep up and give in
Feel the air against your skin
That's when falling feels like flying
That's when falling feels like flying

That's when falling feels like flying
That's when falling feels like flying
Flying
