Friendly Reminder

The Secret Handshake

I put the dirty socks back on
I guess it's just habit
Maybe it's just hope
Sort of like watching the sky
Hopes of the end

There were times when I wish
That was a different story
The only thing that I think about
Is whether or not to tell you

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Hope he's as kind as the surroundings
As which you based your whole life on

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Hope he's as kind as the surroundings
As which you built your hopes

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Hope he's as kind as me
Who will remind you to see?

I hope I will see you soon, real soon
To tell you that you were the greatest love
I hope that I'll see you soon, real soon
To tell you that you were the greatest love

But when there is no tribute great enough
Who will speak the words?
But when there is no tribute great enough
Who will speak the words?
Who will speak the words?
Who will speak the words?

I'll go, I'll go, I'll go

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Who will remind you of me?

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Who will remind you of me
When I'm gone?

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Who will remind you of me
When I'm gone?

Who will remind you to breathe?
Who will remind you to see?
Who will remind you of me

When I'm gone?
