

Planted

The Secret Sisters

Sometimes flowers grow in springtime
Sometimes in the fall
Some will grow only to wither
Some won't grow at all

But you are planted right beside me
Intertwined beneath the ground
And the wind is just a breeze
Whenever you're around
Come what may, nightfall or daylight
Still, I will be planted by you

I don't know if I will ever be as bright as you
You could reach the tallest tree
While I'm just pulling through

Still, you are planted right beside me
You are there to catch my fall
If you're all I have, my darling
I have got it all

Come what may, nightfall or daylight
Still, I will be planted by you

Come what may, nightfall or daylight
Still, I will be planted by you
