Papyrus

The Servant

Hey girl how can you see?
You've blue L.E.D.s where eyes should be
Oh oh baby
Finger the wires
Let the papyrus set on fire
Pour like oil
Station to star
Gymnasium bar
To the drugs in your car
Look
What do you want?
Oh what is it you need?
Where do you want to go?
Where have you ever been?
Oh, where have you been?

You like plastics
And man-made fibres
But could you decipher your own desires?
Oh oh baby
Finger the wires
Let the papyrus set on fire
Pour like oil
Station to star
Gymnasium bar
To the drugs in your car
Look
What do you want?
Oh what is it you need?
Where do you want to go?
Where have you ever been?
Oh, where have you been?

O how strange that I don't remember your name
O how strange that I don't remember your name, your name
I don't remember your name
I don’t, I don't remember your name
What do you want?
Oh what is it you need?
Where do you want to go?
Where have you ever been?
Oh, where have you been?
