

Candlelight

The Sherlocks

With the candle light
I could wait up with the night
While it's giving me
The silent treatment
That I need
To think of you
And everything that I could do
Fly to the moon
Well I'm not leaving anytime soon

Then it all kicks in
And all of your cares
Roll down the window
Where nobody goes
You're pushing the walls
You built around you down
Now you've never felt so alive

You locked your self in, lost at sea
And you couldn't swim to the shore
The more you look back everything changes

Don't go back to what you know
Cause what you know isn't always
What it seems
And when you go will you let me
When you're back
And I'll be waiting for you

There's things you'd say
That make you proud
But proud enough to say
Them out loud?

Or did the water get away
Under the bridge
For me to say

Don't go back to what you know
Cause what you know isn't always
What it seems
And when you go will you let me
When you're back
And I'll be waiting for you

When are you going away
When are you going away?

Don't go back to what you know
Cause what you know isn't always
What it seems
And when you go will you let me
When you're back
For you
