

Under Your Sky

The Sherlocks

When I wake up in the morning
Is it all gonna be alright?
So we can run away to a holiday in the sun
You've fallen down, where did you go?
Now I'm here on my own
You never made a sound, did you ever hit the ground?
Cos these days are long and it just don't feel right

I can't get you out my mind
And all I need is just one more time

Living under your sky
So much better than mine
So please don't let me down
Your sky, we'll have the time of our lives
So don't ever let me down

So Monday morning coming down
With a bad taste in her mouth
But she won't get inside my head
Let's get toda over and done with just for now
So don't feel alone you can talk to me
I'll meet you in the clouds, where the sky can meet the sea
And we'll call down memory lane just to see what still remains

There must be a reason why
It comes and it goes just like the night

That we spend under your sky
So much better than mine
So please, don't let me down
Your sky, we'll have the time of our lives
So don't ever let me down

Would you let me in
Or I'm breaking down
Just let me live

Under your sky
Where it's better than mine
So please don't let me down
Your sky we'll have the time of our lives
So don't ever let me down

Under your sky, under your sky
Under your sky, under your sky
