

Plot Twist

The Shires

Maybe I've seen too many movies
Picture perfect kinda scares me
In the end it always fades to black
Watching re-runs in my head
Every 'I love you' somebody said
Pieces of my heart I won't get back
I wanna believe this ain't that

When you tell me we're the heroes of our own story
This happy ever after ain't too good to be true
I know it's real when you hold me like this
Why do I feel like I'm waiting for the plot twist?

I'm so overdramatic
I've been more hopeless than romantic
That's not who I wanna be with you
I wanna believe in us, I really do

When you tell me we're the heroes of our own story
This happy ever after ain't too good to be true
I know it's real when you hold me like this
Why do I feel like I'm waiting for the plot twist?

Waiting for it all to fall apart
Before I fall too hard for you
I wanna believe in us, I really do

When you tell me we're the heroes of our own story
This happy ever after ain't too good to be true
I know it's real when you hold me like this
Why do I feel like I'm waiting for the plot twist?

Waiting for the plot twist
