

Christmas Morning

The Smithereens

Laying around on a Christmas Eve
I looked out my window
It gave me a thrill when I started to see
The rain had changed to snow

Should I put up a fight,
Just to stay up all night,
And watch the morning sky?

Waking up on Christmas morning
I always feel there's magic in the air
Waking up on Christmas morning
Everything's okay on Christmas Day

Watching the lights on the Christmas tree
With presents all below
I think of the times it was hard for me
And never let it show

It's a Wonderful Life
Is on TV tonight
But I don't wanna cry

Waking up on Christmas morning
I always feel there's magic in the air
Waking up on Christmas morning
Everything's okay on Christmas Day

Watching the snow melt into the ground
While the sun shines
Watching the snow melt into the ground
While the sun shines
Watching the snow melt into the ground
While the sun shines
Watching the snow melt into the ground
While the sun shines
Watching the snow melt into the ground
While the sun shines
Watching the snow melt into the ground
While the sun shines
