Point of No Return

The Smithereens

Listening to the sound of my heartbeat, yeah
Waiting for the silence to end while we're saying goodbye
Even then, delusions just filled my head
When you said you needed a friend
I was there by your side

Guess I'm wrong again this time
'Cause when I see you girl, I cry

Yes, we're going
Going nowhere
There's a lesson that I should have learned
Now I'm running
Running nowhere
Past the point of no return

Sitting in the darkness of my room, yeah
Making sure the pictures of you have been placed out of sight
Nothing seems the same in this empty bed
Waking up to see you're not there
I can't sleep through the night

Guess I'm wrong again this time
'Cause when I see you girl, I cry

Yes, we're going
Going nowhere
There's a lesson that I should have learned
Now I'm running
Running nowhere
Past the point of no return

Yes, we're going
Going nowhere
There's a memory that I should have burned
Now I'm running
Running nowhere
Past the point of no return
