

Microwave

The Snuts

Do you cross your eyes
Stare into the microwave?
Do you watch it bubble over the sides?
Is that a sign of the times?

Do you cross your heart
Swear you're in a better place?
See I watch you tumble under the tide
Have you got something to hide?

There's nowhere to hide
And nowhere to find
And the sun still shines
Upon a bed of thorn and vine

Ooh ooh ooh
Ooh ooh ooh
Ooh ooh ooh
Ooh ooh ooh ooh

Do you clasp your hand
Pray they never get away?
And is there something in the dead of the night
Got you wondering why?

Wondering why and where and who you could be
'Cause I've been waiting patiently
For the sun or maybe even the sea
To release

Oh, release a little part of the breeze
'Cause I love you, little lady, with ease
And I'm hoping somewhere deep underneath
We'll still be
We'll still be
