

No Place I'd Rather Go

The Snuts

These were my only wishes
I've ever known
But I miss that old time summer stone

And if you ever catch me wishing
Hoping for more
Won't you just please remind me of
That look you gave when I said
That you are my world
And there's no place than here I would rather go

And no
And there's no place than here I would rather go

And I'm on the fence now
And I tend to disagree
That there's no pot of gold there for you and me
When on the contrary
You know there's something in the way that she
There's something in the way that she believes

And if you ever catch me wishing
Hoping for more
Won't you just please remind me of
That look you gave when I said
That you are my world
And there's no place than here I would rather go

And no
And there's no place than here I would rather go
And no
And there's no place than here I would rather go

La, la, la, la, la, la, la
La, la, la, la, la, la
La, la, la, la, la, la
La, la, la
La, la, la, la, la, la
La, la, la, la

Wine on the rocks he said to me
I know I'll only ever be
He said I know I'll only ever be free
Wine on the rocks he said to me
I know I'll only ever be
He said I know I'll only ever be free

Oh, and no
There's no place than here I would rather go
And no
There's no place than here I would rather go
And no
There's no place than here I would rather go
