

Goodbye

The Softies

both of us know that this romance has ended but we both pretended it wasn't this soon I was so young and you swept me away now I'm twenty-two and I don't love you anymore I'm sorry to say, so what do I do when you ask me to stay I like you enough still, I wish you the best but I'm letting go now of all of the rest all of your promises broke from the weight of too many mistakes realized it too late everything I know I learned it from you but watching you go what did I know about love you said it was true, then you left me crying for somebody new I don't understand and I don't think that I can ever forgive you, let's just say goodbye

I won't be angry and you not ashamed no one needs to be blamed, we just don't love the same I tried to tell you but you didn't hear now it's even true I won't be there for you anymore I'm sorry to say, so how can you still look at me the same way thanks for the nice things and maybe in time I won't remember you ever were mine
