

Through And Through

The Sound

Underneath your flesh
And deep down inside your bones
There's a pulling that you can't recall
A feeling that nobody knows

Where it's been or where it leads
To a brighter day maybe
Or to a cloudy day
And you will turn and say
With you

Through and through it's everything
Through and through it's every bit of you

Take the time for me
And I will
Steal time for you
Like these problems
Like a wave that comes
Crashing back for you

Through and through it's everything
Through and through it's every bit of you

And if you're feeling guilty
It's just because you are
And if you're feeling nothing
Then you better run
Far away

In that door and out of my life
Back into the world outside
Where you belong
And you know I'll
Be on my own
But I'll be through and through

Through and through it's everything
Through and through it's every bit of you
Every bit of you

You ever treat me that way again
You gonna never see my face again
And the water on our cheeks will be
The sum of everything we meant

And something indvidable
Is gonna just take flight
Our whole world will freeze
And leave us
Stranded in those lies

Through and through it's everything
Through and through it's every bit of you

Well, take the time for me, and I will
Steal time for you

Like these problems
Like a wave that comes
Crashing back for you

Through and through it's everything
Through and through it's every bit of you
Every bit of you

Take some time for me
And I'll steal some time for you
I'll come crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back
Crashing back for you
