

Dreaming Of You

The Sounds

I feel like the world is closing its eyes
Nobody's watching me
It feels like I'm screaming at someone who is deaf
You can't hear me

I see the waves come crashing down
Washing over me
My little castle made of sand
Comes crumbling down
Comes crumbling down

Here we are just drifting though space
There's no now when you're chasing tomorrow
The echoes in my head from the words that you said
You sounded cold and your voice was full of sorrow (sorrow)
You never gave me a chance to explain myself
You think it's crazy I know you do
But everybody's lying and pretending it's true
I keep dreaming of you
I keep dreaming of you

I feel like the world is closing its eyes
Nobody's watching me
It feels like I'm screaming at someone who is deaf
You can't hear me
Can anybody hear me

The whole world comes crumbling down, comes crumbling down on y ou

Here we are just drifting though space
There's no now when you're chasing tomorrow
The echoes in my head from the words that you said
You sounded cold and your voice was full of sorrow (sorrow)
You never gave me a chance to explain myself
You think it's crazy I know you do
But everybody's lying and pretending it's true
I keep dreaming of you
(I keep dreaming of you)
I keep dreaming of you
(I keep dreaming of you)
I keep dreaming of you
