

Darkside

The Spill Canvas

Well whaddya know?
Look at me go - I'm on a rampage
See I got this other wicked side
And when the two collide it's all the rage
I wonder if my thunder will be way too loud for you
Just creep a little closer to make sure
You feel the boom, boom, boom

With such a sick finesse
You played me little lady like a game of chess
Although you're no better than me,
And incidentally we both deserve the agony

In between the sheets your screams resonate into the city streets
Fortunately, I think you can agree
There's nothing wrong with being lonely

It really comes as no surprise to me
We got stuck on the dark side
Where all of the shine died

It really comes as no surprise to me
We got stuck on the dark side

Well whaddya think? Twist a kink and complicate my world
As easy as you please-you can follow my lead girl

With such a sick finesse
You played me little lady like a game of chess
Although you're no better than me,
And incidentally we both deserve the agony

It really comes as no surprise to me
We got stuck on the dark side
Where all of the shine died

It really comes as no surprise to me
We got stuck on the dark side

I think we should rip ourselves apart for fun
(Oh, just for fun)
A little self-indulgence never hurt anyone

It really comes as no surprise to me
We got stuck on the dark side
Where all of the shine died

It really comes as no surprise to me
We got stuck on the dark side

I think we should rip ourselves apart for fun
(Oh, just for fun)
A little self-indulgence never hurt anyone
