

I'm Dyin' a Little Each Day

The Statler Brothers

Just another cold day and a warm can of beans
And an old TV show or two
It would not be bad or hurt quite so much
If you were by yourself too

Livin' ain't easy when you're all alone
There's got to be a better way
I'd lay down my life for you anytime
So I'm dyin' a little each day

The stories I've heard and the things that I've seen

Don't help when I'm thinkin' of you
There's somebody else who lives in your dreams
At least he's that close to you

Livin' ain't easy when you're all alone
There's got to be a better way
I'd lay down my life for you anytime
So I'm dyin' a little each day
I'm dyin' a little each day
