

Nothing's Gonna Happen

The Staves

How can I rearrange
And put it on the page?
When the enemy's at the door
And there's nothing you can do
They've never seen before
And everybody knows

Nothing's gonna happen with your back against the door
Could I be the only one still waiting?
I can wait some more
Tell me what happens, will I be okay?
I can see a fire from a mile away
'Cause nothing's gonna happen with your back against the door

If I could reach you now
I'd say that I am proud
Of everything you've done
And the wonderful man I know you have become
'Cause maybe you don't know

Nothing's gonna happen with your back against the door
Could I be the only one still waiting?
I can wait some more
Tell me what happens, will I be okay?
Tell me that you love me when you're miles away
Nothing's gonna happen with your back against the door

Loneliness is on the door

Loving is a lie
I saw it on the sign
It's a line to drag you in
It's false advertising
And no one wants to say

Nothing's gonna happen with your back against the door
Could I be the only one still waiting?
I can wait some more
Tell me what happens, will I be okay?
I can see a fire from a mile away
'Cause nothing's gonna happen with your back against the door
