

Magdalene

The SteelDrivers

The moment that you met
When He looked into your eyes
Did you almost lose your breath
Did you think He'd change your life

Had you ever known a man like Him
Oh, Magdalene

What made you kneel that night
To wash his feet with tears
Did it take you by surprise
When he took away your fear

I bet you'd never loved a man like Him
Ooh, ooh Magdalene

Did it shake you to the core
Did it lift you from the dark
When He opened up the door
To the kingdom of your heart

When you saw Him on the cross
With the piercing in His side
Did you look at what you lost
For the gain of all mankind

The world had never known a man like Him
Ooh, ooh Magdalene

When He asked why do you weep
On that early Sunday morn
Did you trust, did you believe
That love had been reborn

The world had never known a man like Him
Ooh, ooh Magdalene

Redeemed from all sin
Ooh, ooh Magdalene
