

When I'm Gone

The SteelDrivers

You'll find yourself another fool before too long
And it won't make a difference who is right or wrong
When I'm gone

Just a door that I never should have opened
Just a door you never should have let me in Just a door that its time for me to close
And one I won't be knocking on again

When I'm gone
You'll find yourself another fool before too long
And it won't make a difference who is right or wrong
When I'm gone

I can't say that I never goin' to miss you
I can't tell you that you'll never cross my mind
I can't say I won't be wishin' I could kiss you one more time

When I'm gone
You'll find yourself another fool before too long
And it won't make a difference who is right or wrong
When I'm gone

Go find yourself another fool before too long
And it won't make a difference who is right or wrong
When I'm gone
