

Meaning of Life

The Stone

So, what is the meaning of life?
White crucifix or a sharp knife?
Seeking truth? Well seek it hard
And if you find it, send me a post card

Got a career, wear a tie, you want it all
There's nothing you can't buy
"I want my name written in stars
I wanna be the first man walking on Mars"

No - You'll never find the true meaning
Never - Cos you're looking for it inside of yourself

Take a walk in the street, listen to life
Can you hear its heart beat
Smell the raw, still rotten meat
Those people ain't the same you used to meet

Who might you be - A greedy servant seeking the truth
What do you see - I see me, do you know my daddy
Who might you be - Super freak alien from outer space
What do you see - See my big lie, worship me or die

Take an elevator through empty space
Buy yourself a shuttle and join the never-ending race
Take a subway to the center of earth
What on earth could be there, a show where Mother Earth gives birth

You're getting tired of truth stuff
Besides, searching is rough
But have you sought from the right places
Don't give up yet, at least not now
Maybe your colours show up somehow
Have you even looked under the Bible

Ride your shuttle once more through space
Look outta window, see God's face?
Then perhaps, you'd understand the meaning
Out there, there's nothing for you to be seen
Instead of brain, you got a tiny bean
The further you go the nearer the truth you get
No truth I bet!
