

The Hurt

The Strumbellas

I've been beating about, kicking around
What goes up must come down
Listening to your favorite song

Riding the wave, hiding away
Laying in bed, wasting the day
Waiting for a sign to come along

I'm losing my sight from seeing it all
Losing the fight but craving the fall
I'm just getting tired of standing tall
I'm losing my sight from seeing it all
Losing the fight but craving the fall
I'm just getting tired of standing tall

Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down from the hurt
Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down
To get my feet on solid ground, hey
Hey, hey
To get my feet on solid ground

Holding my breath, deep in the chest
Making amends, cleaning my mess
Tryna make up for all of my wrongs

Watching the sun die in the clouds
When all is lost, I'm making you proud
Praying you're still singing along

I'm losing myself to see what I find
I'm breaking the spell, stealing the prize
Can't keep hanging on to all these lies

Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down from the hurt
Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down
To get my feet on solid ground, hey
Hey, hey
To get my feet on solid ground

When my enemies have all been crowned
And my bridges have all burned down
I'll be the lonely face in the crowd
Finding my comfort in sound
Finding my comfort in sound

Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down from the hurt
Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down
To get my feet on solid ground, hey

Hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down from the hurt

Hey, hey, it's a long way down
It's a long way down
To get my feet on solid ground, hey

It's a long way down
Hey, hey
It's a long way down from the hurt
To get my feet on solid ground, hey
It's a long way down
Hey, hey
It's a long way down from the hurt
To get my feet on solid ground
