

Miserable

The Summer Set

Another morning bright and early
You pour me coffee and I'm worried
That my heart is reaching system overload
Cause I got a dirty little secret
And I know if I keep it any longer than my head's going to explode
So here it goes all or nothing
You should know there is something
That I must get off my chest

You make me miserable
You make me wish I was Invisible
I don't want to wake up one more day
If I gotta see your face
You make me miserable
You make me miserable

Well maybe I forgot to mention
That baby I've got a confession
I've been lying to you since the day we met
And I hope this doesn't hurt your feelings
But when I'm staring at the ceiling
It's cause I'm trying not to laugh when we're in bed
So here it goes (here it goes)
All or nothing (all or nothing)
You should know (you should know)
There is something (there is something)
That I must get off my chest
Yeah I wish you the best but

You make me miserable (you make me miserable)
You make me wish I was Invisible
I don't want to wake up one more day
If I gotta see your face
You make me miserable (you make me miserable)
You make me miserable

Baby when I'm with you
You know I'd rather be standing in line at the DMV
Or doing literally anything else

You make me miserable
I think you're being hypocritical
I don't want to wake up one more day
If I gotta see your stupid face
You make me miserable
You make me miserable
You make me miserable
