Everything Turns

The Superjesus

When everything turns away
There's nothing you've left you want to say
And everyone's dying just to see the bed you've made
Cause nothing is like before
The second is worth a little more
And everyone's dying just to see it what it's for

Now I'm not believing all you say
And I'm better off that way

Cause it's the lesson I was about to learn
It's in the taste of everything I was missing
The road I'll take won't take me back again

I wouldn't be less than you
If I was always expected to
And now I've got just enough to break the thought in two
Cause I was the last in line
Keeping you thinking all the time
And living is just enough to make you wonder why

Cause it's the lesson I was about to learn
It's in the taste of everything I was missing
The road I'll take won't take me back again

And it's the best of everything never tried
Till the night starts falling into the sky
It's the only thing to keep me here tonight

And it's the lesson I was about to learn
It's in the taste of everything I was missing
The road I'll take won't take me back again
And it's the best of everything never tried
Till the night starts falling into the sky
It's the only thing to keep me here tonight
