The Supervillains

Entire life before your eyes
Things I'd done right, things I'd do over
Flashing bright before your eyes
The last thing you see before it's over
Come to the light, take off your clothes
A foolish mind kept out of focus
No other line, no dial tone
This hourglass just burst wide open
Lifted up by the light inside

Horizons open wide, entire skies
Brighter than a ball of fire open your eyes
To that higher vibration with no destination
Looking through the eyes of the universe

Somewhere between the day and night
Is a perfect time.. enjoy the moment
Bleed out the poison from out lines
Release this jellyfish back to the ocean
