The Sweepings

Love I always kept my distance and then you came around
The fortress I built on an island breaking down into the water below

My eyes closed, I'm losing hold

Catch me dear, I'm falling
The walls are coming down
Piece by piece take me now
From the moment that our lips met
My defense is all but gone
We collide and explode like a cannonball

My empire in ashes around me
And somehow I feel like it's all right in place
Like drifting, to sleep I went slowly
And then all at once, you took me away

My eyes closed, I'm losing hold

Catch me dear, I'm falling
The walls are coming down
Piece by piece take me now
From the moment that our lips met
My defense is all but gone
We collide and explode like a cannonball
Cannonball

You held me closer, stone by stone
Now I'm letting go
Catch me dear, I'm falling

Catch me dear, I'm falling
The walls are coming down
Piece by piece take me now
From the moment that our lips met
My defense is all but gone
We collide and explode like a cannonball
