

What We Once Were

The Sweepings

There's no way out
Our backs against the wall
From somewhere down deep
Overtaken like a storm

We can't take back the words we spoke
The promised we've released

Oh how, oh how we lost it
Laid rest to what we once were

Change is sure to come
Now that everything's gone wrong
A plea for how it was
Before we were overcome

We can't pull back what's overboard
Sink into the black beneath

Oh how, oh how we lost it
Laid rest to what we once were

Oh how, oh how we lost it
Laid rest to what we once were

All these walls are closing in
Borrowed time has found an end
Every piece falls to the wind
To the wind

Oh how, oh how we lost it
Laid rest to what we once were

Oh how, oh how we lost it
Laid rest to what we once were

Oh how, oh how we lost it
All love, all love what we once were
