

Iron Swan

The Sword

Iron ships on seas of blood Black winds fill their silver sails Iron swan rises high above in crimson twilight through the earthly veil

Legions of vermin surround me malefic taint in their eyes Madness gives sway to delusion in defense of a fortress of lies

The iron swan floats amidst the reeds
It's shadow long upon the water It gives a cry for what can never be which draws the eyes of Odin's daughters

Scion of storms, aegis of rime
I call on the powers of old Unleash your vengeance to punish the crimes of those who I name as my foes
